

Regarding Truth in Billing.

After reading an article on CNN
(<http://www.cnn.com/2004/TECH/biztech/08/25/phone.fee.fight.ap/index.html>) I suggest the following compromise:

Mobile phone providers may include the line item fees, but all advertised pricing must include the price of the rate plan as well as the maximum amount of fees a customer may have on their bill. If the fee (or tax) is a percentage of the bill, the maximum percentage must be disclosed for any tax jurisdiction in their market.
